Dear Phil,

I wanted to let you know how grateful my staff and I are that I made the decision to use your knowledge and expertise in helping us to construct our website to correctly reflect your Genergraphics process.

By working with us to redesign our entire website from top to bottom, you enabled us to be more accurate in reaching our customers from the 3 generations of Baby Boomers, Gen-Xers and Echo Boomers.

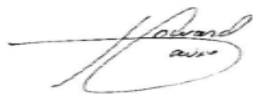

Consumers are now attracted more to our products based upon the different Genergraphics designs that appeal to them in the language, color, and illustrations. Sales are certainly being greatly affected by this unique approach.

We are now able to affectively market our products to different generations based on their navigation through our website. This added knowledge has greatly helped us to promote products and information based on each generation concerns and needs.

I would highly recommend to any business large or small to use Genergraphics not only on their website, but literature and any other advertising that they do under your direction.

We are ready for a more profitable year with Genergraphics.
